Course Information

Overview

This is a pre-employment program designed to train individuals who are new or looking to work in the drilling industry. The course is designed as per the Drilling industry standards and after successful completion of this course students will be awarded IADC certificate which is internationally recognized.

Clearly explains drilling to non-technical persons. Drilling rigs have many, many parts and rig personnel do many, many things; as a result, it is hard to make the drilling process understandable. To help students understand, however, this course not only describes parts and techniques in simple terms, it also tells why a part or a technique is necessary. What is more, photos and drawings show the equipment, the personnel, and many of the operations described in text.
